NEWYORK — ESPN and ABC Sports agreed to terms this week with The Breaking Wind for the rights to use one of the band's original songs. From the band's self-titled debut album the track "Dear Mr. Murphy," composed and arranged by Marty Isaacs, is intended for use as a music bed or background for an on-air teaser for ABC Sports' Saturday Night Football. This week's game is Michigan vs. Iowa. Legendary sportscaster Brent Musburger will be the voice talent.

The Breaking Wind's three band members, Marty Isaacs, Ryan Johnson, and Ryan Mickeloff, all attend McKinnon Park Secondary School in Caledonia, Ontario. The teaser will air this Saturday at 8:00 p.m. EST, on Free TV on ABC networks and its affiliates, including HDTV, worldwide. Tim Horgan, the Emmy Award-Winning producer who selected the song, said: "It's clear that The Breaking Wind is a unique and authentic band comprised of original talent. We only use the best music for prime time games, that's why we chose The Breaking Wind. Dear Mr. Murphy immediately stood out as a hard-hitting track ideal for use in conjunction with contact sporting events."

The Breaking Wind is an exciting, entertaining, and charismatic band whose vibrant music features compelling hooks, contagious rhythms, and captivating bass lines that blend instrument and voice to create a distinctive, and yet, refreshingly, classic sound. Forged into a fusion of rock, blues, and funk, with flourishes of amplified jazz, The Breaking Wind's music contains infectious grooves that would force a foot-tap out of even the most comatose deadbeat.
